09 DECEMBER 2022

Kia ora whānau,

What a fabulous couple of weeks we have had here at Tua Marina School. It has been so nice to see you all through the school gates once again. Last week's Tua Marina's Got Talent show was so much fun. Thank you all for coming along and celebrating the great talent that we have at TMS.

This will be my last newsletter as Principal at Tua Marina School. It is with great sadness that I will be moving on from Tua Marina School at the beginning of 2023. Tua Marina School is an amazing school with incredible students, an incredibly supportive community and some of the most passionate teachers that I have ever had the pleasure of working with. The whole time I have been the Principal at TMS I have felt incredibly trusted and supported by the BoT. I am certain that the BoT will be able to recruit a great principal who will lead the school into the future.

On Wednesday we had a special leaver's dinner for all of our year 8's who will be heading off to college in 2023. Thank you so much to Mr Mason and Lorraine who set up the hall. It looked amazing and I am sure the year 8's and their whānau felt pretty special with all of the effort that went into the night.

The kai was amazing and all of the year 8's stood in front of their whānau, their peers and their teachers and shared some great memories of their time at TMS. Of course, there were some laughs and funny stories shared as well.

The photo below shows how well our year 8's scrub up even though it is not the most serious of poses for many!

Congratulations to Angela Ives. Not only has Angela successfully completed her 2 years as a provisionally registered teacher and gained full registration, but she has also secured a teaching position at Burnside Primary School for 2023. I know that all of the students, whānau and staff who have worked with Ange will miss her calm and gentle manner and absolute dedication to Tua Marina School. Burnside Primary are incredibly lucky to have such an amazing teacher heading their way.

Now that we know who is staying at Tua Marina School in 2023 we can share the class outline for 2023. We are not expecting any more changes for 2023, but obviously, this plan will change if there are.

I wish the entire Tua Marina School community all the best for the future and I look forward to keeping in touch

Ngā mihi nui,
Bradley Roberts

Important info

Property work at Tua Marina School over the Summer break. There will be some significant building work being carried out at Tua Marina School over the December-February period. All of the flat roofing sections over the main building from the staffroom, all the way down to room 5 will be removed and re-pitched.

During the construction period, some areas of the school will be fenced off and there will be regular vehicle movements in and out of the school, as well as all of the hazards and risks that you would expect on a large building site.

While the local community enjoys using the school's outdoor facilities during term breaks, we are asking that the community not use the school's facilities while the builders are here.

Thanks for your support in keeping everyone safe.

KEGS

6th December Tua Marina Kegs report

Kids in the kitchen. Makomako class showed their culinary skills today and made silverbeet and cheese scrolls. Silver beet was finely chopped cheese grated. The cheese and silverbeet placed on the pastry then rolled up and sliced into bite size pieces. Baked in the oven and all ready to eat. Kai Pai !!
